Big Night for Modern Woodmen

Woodmen of America to Have Celebration in I. O. O. F Hall Smethport, Thursday Evening, October 14—Local Camp Will Entertain Various McKean County Camps.

One of the greatest celebrations ever attempted by the Modern Woodmen of America in this vicinity will occur in I. O. O. F. Hall, Smethport, on Thursday evening, October 14, when Smethport Camp No. 9122 will have as guests large delegations from fifteen camps in McKean County, the occasion being known as the McKean County Class Adoption.

Numbered among the officials of the society who are expected to be present are State Deputy Head Consul M. H. Wyckoff, Pittsburgh; State Clerk J. A. Perry, New Castle; State Degree Master C. E. Brooks, Bradford; Past State Consul Capt. R. J. Sharp, Kane; F. E. Brennan, Olean, N. Y.; District Deputy Head Consul, Third New York District and J. W. Babcock, Bradford, District Deputy Head Consul, 7th Pennsylvania district.

One of the features of the occasion will be the class initiation or adoption. Candidates from every camp in the county are expected and Smethport's quota alone will exceed fifty. The degree work will be exemplified by a team that has been referred to as the best in the State of Pennsylvania, namely the team from Bradford.

The local committee of arrangements is entitled to much praise for securing this excellent team and no doubt a packed hall of enthusiastic Woodmen will be present to witness the ceremony of adoption.

The camps to be entertained on this occasion include Kane, Mt. Jewett, Port Allegany, Ludlow, Eldred, Bradford, Coryville, Turtle Point, Crosby, Betula, Norwich, Rixford, Duke Center.

The Modern Woodmen of America is today the marvel of the fraternal insurance world. It is thirty-seven years of age and is the largest fraternal insurance society the world has ever known, its membership exceeding one million, sixty thousand. There are more than 175,000 in the State of Illinois and in Kansas, one man out of every three, eligible for membership, is identified with this fraternity. Eighty thousand new members were added last year.

That the McKean County Class Adoption will be a tremendous success is assured by a glance at the following very capable committees:

Reception Committee—J. A. Swanson, chairman, George W. Mitchell, W. H. Morrison, T. W. McDermott, Robert Taylor, A. H. Kidder, Clayton Crawford, C. H. Irons, M. H. Oakley and M. A. Birmingham.

Arrangement Committee—J. A. Larson, chairman, P. S. Curran, S. W. Hubbard, A. M. Anderson, A. Jacobson and George Howe.

Banquet Committee—J. A. Lindholm, chairman, Leo J. Samson, Arthur P. Witt, Samuel Schoolmaster and Edwin Lindholm.

Committee on Candidates—F. C. Anderson, chairman, J. A. Lindholm and S. W. Hubbard.

The fact that Smethport is to be honored with a gathering of this character speaks well for the borough's fame as to hospitality and the visiting Woodmen will be given a royal welcome

AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION CAMPAIGN

The American Library Association, which rendered such valiant service during the war, is engaged in a quiet nation-wide campaign to raise $2,000,000 to carry on its work. Smethport's quota of $80 has been given to Miss Carrie Day, as the local representative of that organization, to raise.

No attempt is being made at anything like an individual canvass as it is expected that the most of the money will come from various organizations. As an example, last Monday night the Bucktail Post, appreciating the service of the Library Association in supplying them reading matter under all conditions—in camp, on board ship, overseas, in hospitals, voted the sum of $10.

The money thus raised will be used largely to carry on already recognized branches of the association's work—such as supplying books to men in the army and navy, to blind ex-service men and to further the movement to have each community support its own library. Miss Day would be glad to supply any information further to those who may be interested.

DEATH OF MRS. CASSIE E. LEONARD

Mrs. Cassie E. Leonard died at her residence at Waymart, Wayne County, Pa., on Thursday morning, September 16, after a protracted illness.

Mrs. Leonard was the daughter of Deacon Henry Lasher and Lydia Maker, pioneer settlers of McKean County and was born at Norwich Corners, May 18, 1839.

Her girlhood and early womanhood was spent in her native community. In 1869 she went to Wayne County, Pa. On December 20, 1877 she was united in marriage to George W. Leonard. They settled in Waymart and Mrs. Leonard continued to reside there until her death.

She was a member of the Baptist Church and a good Christian, ever active in church work and in anything to better the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Leonard was an aunt of Mr. D. L. Haven, Mr. C. P. Haven and Mr. Arthur Rice of this place.

RIXFORD BOWS TO SMETHPORT

Last Game the Best of the Season—Both Teams Displayed Wonderful Talent.

Real stuff characterized last Sunday's baseball game between Smethport and Rixford. The presence of a number of outsiders in the line-ups of both teams was responsible for a good measure of big-league base ball that was fully appreciated by the large crowd on hand. Smethport came out winner in a 3-1 battle that was replete with thrills.

Manager Clark, seeing the way the fans took to the appearance of Herb Moran in the game with Mt. Jewett the week before, presented his star again, along with four other members of the Elcos, the fastest aggregation in this section last year. Spears filled in at short, Robinson at left, McDonald caught, and Fileshifter pitched. In addition Paul Moran came along to add his bit in right field.

Each of the outsiders added spice to the contest particularly Spears at short, who handled a number of hard tries in brilliant fashion. Fileshifter pitched a beautiful game, his feature act coming in the second inning when he retired the side on strikes.

But while great credit is to be given the former Elcos, sight must not be

PA. WOMEN PLAN VICTORY PLAN

Contributions Range From One To One Hundred Dollars; G. O. P. Women Respond.

The Republican Women's Victory Fund, with contributions ranging from $1 to 100 is the plan of Pennsylvania women to ensure Republican victory in November and to celebrate their newly acquired citizenship.

Mrs. George Harris Lorimer of Pittsburgh, wife of the editor of the Saturday Evening Post, and vice chairman of the Ways and Means committee for Pennsylvania, has appointed subcommittees in every district and the pledge cards already returned show the active interest women are taking in politics. "Every Republican woman wants a share in the work that will bring victory to the party in November," said Mrs. Lorimer, "and the immediate response to the idea of a Republican Women's Victory fund has astonished and delighted me."

SHORT SESSION OF CRIMINAL COURT

Criminal Court this week lasted but two days. The important murder cases were adjourned until the December session so that it was possible to bring the remaining cases on the calendar to a satisfactory close on Tuesday afternoon.

An unusually large number of divorce cases were before Judge Bouton for settlement. However in one case at least settlement was not so difficult, as rather than break up definitely, one pair decided to make another try of it and went out arm and arm with His Honor's blessings.

The Betula whisky case was up for trial Tuesday and being the first prosecution for an infaction of the prohibition amendment created considerable interest. It took the jury less than half an hour to find the defendant guilty but the sentence as a different matter. The fact that the defendant is a widow with four small children and no other kin in the United States makes this matter rather difficult.

THE REV. MR. GREGSON AND FAMILY AT HOME

The Rev. Arthur Gregson again occupied his pulpit at the morning and evening services at the M. E. Church last Sunday, after an absence of two and a half months in England. An unusually large congregation greeted him in the morning. The well-attended evening service was devoted to a celebration of holy communion. Next Sunday there will be no preaching services as Mr. Gregson will be in attendance at conference.

Mr. Gregson and family express themselves as more than delighted to be back in America and especially in Smethport. During their two months in England there were but nine days in which no rain fell. Mr. Gregson declares that the situation in England is appalling by reason of labor troubles, war casualties, and general indifference to the real welfare of the country. No one is able to say what will come of it all.

NOTICE.

The League of Women Voters will hold its second monthly citizenship class at St. Luke's Parish House, Wednesday evening, October 13, at 7:30 p.m. The following day, October 14, is the county convention, 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., at which Mrs. John O. Miller, state president, from Pittsburgh, will speak. All women in the town, whether members or not are urged to attend.

LeRoy Stock Company is here.

SUPPORTING 1231 MOTION PICTURE HOUSES IN STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., October 3.—Movie fans are supporting 1231 motion picture houses in this state, according to figures announced here today by Dr. Clifford B. Connelley, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry. Allegany county, including Pittsburgh, has 191, the largest number in any county of the state. Philadelphia is second with 150. Fulton is the only county in which there are no theaters.

All motion picture machine operators in Pennsylvania are required to procure licenses which are supplied by the Department of Labor and Industry upon completion of a satisfactory examination. The applicants must show technical familarity with their machines, electricity and the films That precaution is taken for the protection of the public against fires which may result from careless handling of the films.

There are now 1880 licensed operators in the state. Examinations are held every two months, and from 75 to 100 persons appear for the tests. The licenses are issued for one year, subject to renewal on application. Three licenses were revoked this year.

For the protection and comfort of the audiences in movie houses, the Department of Labor and Industry has prescribed widths of aisles, arrangements of seats, location and number of exits, and requires fire prevention devices in the projection rooms. The construction of all motion picture theaters must conform to the state's fire and panic act of 1909.

COUDERSPORT TEAM HERE NEXT SATURDAY

The high school foot ball squad have been busy this week getting ready for Coudersport, who will be here next Saturday. It will be remembered that each team won one of the series of two games played between these two schools last year, each team coming out ahead on their home grounds.

Considerable promise of a real team was shown in Saturday game against Portville, and the few weak points in the play of the boys have been worked over and, it is believed, remedied. Monday night there was a talk and analysis of the game in the school building, Tuesday night a hard scrimmage last night light signal practice, tonight there will be another scrimmage, and Friday night's blackboard talk and signal practice will put the finishing touches on the team.

The boys are playing real football and are deserving the support of the town. The fact that they have had to considerable expense to finish the outfitting of the team has put them in a debt that they can meet only from the money taken in from admissions at the games.

Corporal John R. Dixon Discharged

Harrisburg, Pa., October 3.—Major Lynn G. Adams, Superintendent of the Department of State Police, today announced the discharge of corporal John R. Dixon, of Troop E, Lancaster. He was convicted in court-martial proceedings on a charge of drunkenness at Chambersburg and Shippensburg, September 22.

The dismissed trooper became unruly in a hotel, drew his pistol on a local policeman and forced him out of the place. State policemen took Dixon to the State Police Training School at Newville, where he was suspended, pending his discharge from the police force.

—A number of friends surpriade Mr. and Milton Green Friday evening, the occasion being Mr. Green's twenty-first birthday.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS S. H. SCHOOL BEATS PORTVILLE

William Gallup and Paul Fitch Are Showing Up Wonderful As New Players.

By winning their first home game in a very handy fashion from Portville the high school football team last Saturday made good in the eyes of the fans of the town and gave promise of an unusually successful season. The home boys completely outclassed their opponents in every department of the game and rolled up five touchdowns as against Portville's two, totalling 32 points against 13.

For the first few minutes of the game the local boys seemed to be in a daze and permitted their opponents to score a touchdown by the clever use of forward passes. This happening, however, awakened them and from that time onward the visitors were at practically no point dangerous.

When the boys have learned the defence against forward passes, they will have an all-around machine that will be hard opposition for any high school in this section. Numerous complimentary remarks were passed by knowing spectators to the effect that this year's team is the best the high school has had in the field in years.

The line in the Portville game resembled a stone wall. While allowing no advances from hostile territory, the linesmen time and time again tore through their opponents to catch the runner and throw him for a loss before the play had hardly begun

The backfield showed some rough corners that will be polished off this week in preparation for the game here next Saturday with Coudersport. William Gallup joined the squad the first of the week and in spite of the fact that he had had only one night's practice with the boys, showed up well. The rest of the backfield worked in good shape also. Allison, the quarterback, played a bang-up game, making long gains, particularly on end-runs and forward passes.

Paul Fitch, a senior in the high school who is playing his first season's football, is proving a strong man on the line at guard He is flanked by Paul Karlen, also a new man, but the two are working together like veterans Boyd McCarty and Robert Hamilton are holding down the other side of he line in a very acceptable manner The ends are being played by Monheimer and Cramer, with Robert Cochran and Michael Coyliostro as subs.

ATTENTION ODD FELLOWS

On Friday evening, October 8 Smethport Lodge No. 389 I. O. O. F. will install officers and present veteran jewels to 25 year mebmers of the order. Refreshments will be served. All Odd Fellows are requested to be in attendance at this session.

PORCH CAMPAIGN IS ON IN CONNECTICUT

Mrs. Alexander C. Pfeiffer Makes First Front Porch Speech in That State.

New York, Oct. 7.—The "Front Porch" is to invade Connecticut. Announcement was made a few days ago at Republican National headquarters in New York city that Connecticut women are planning to establish "front porches" throughout the state, modelled after the "Front Porch" at Marion, Ohio, upon which issues of the day can be discussed.

Mrs. Alexander Carlisle Pfeiffer, of Boston, made the first of these porch speeches at New Britain, Conn.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IS AVERAGE

With five weeks of the school year completed and all of the late adrivls enrolled it has been found that the borough schools are accommodating just about an average attendance. In all there are 415 pupils of whom 123 are in the high school and 292 in the grades, classed as follows:

| Grade | Teacher | No. |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Vera Jones | 34 |
| 2 | Marian Bush | 30 |
| 3 | Dorothy Apple | 31 |
| 4 | Leonne Lemmler | 35 |
| 5 | Julia Fay | 39 |
| 3 and 5 | Etto Hogarth | 24 |
| 6 | Laura Van Dusen | 39 |
| 7 | Edith Churchley | 33 |
| 8 | Marie Kane | 27 |
| | | 292 |

While it is impossible to classify definitely all those in the high school with respect to the year of their graduation, the approximate number of the members of the four classes may be given as seniors 27, juniros 26, sophomore 25 and Freshmen 45.

NOTED PREACHER AND SINGER TO BE AT THE SWEDISH MISSION CHURCH

Rev. Carl Hognander of Jamestown, N. Y., will be at the Swedish Mission Church next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Rev. Hognander is pastor of one of the largest Swedish churches in America. He is a powerful preacher a and a great singer. No one ought to miss the opportunity to hear him. The services will begin at 8 o'clock p.m. All are cordially invited.

BUCKTAILS MET MONDAY NIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucktail Post, American Legion, was held in the Hose House last Monday evening. The largest attendance for several months was on hand when the meeting was called to order by the post commander, Dr. W. A. Ostrander.

Several matters pertaining to the big ex-service men's convention here last August were taken up and finally disposed of. One pleasing feature of the meeting in this connection was the communication from the Frank Burt Post of Port Allegany in which that organization thanked the Bucktails for their hospitality on the occasion named.

Plans are going forward for the celebration of Armistice Day in fitting fashion. The committee, composed of Paul Halstrom, chairman, Fred Burlingame, and J. D. Hogarth have the program well in hand. Undoubtedly the big thing that day will be the presentation of the government's victory medals to all service men who are entitled to them. The proper papers a rebeing filled out and will be promptly forwarded in the hope that immediate action may be had.

The National Defense

Senator Harding, speaking to a delegation, including two blind ex-service men, charged the Democratic administration with "premeditated neglect" of preparation for war.

It is a grave charge, about the gravest that could be brought against a government, and it is a true charge. Upon the outbreak of the war Mr. Wilson told Congress and the people that we had not neglected preparation; in other words, that we were as ready as our possible needs required. A year later, it is true, he had changed his tune and was maning a tour in favor of an army bill. But with this exception, throughout the years in which the world shook with the European conflict and we were being carried toward it by forces with which Mr. Wilson himself was dealing, the executive departments did virtually nothing to prepare to meet our responsibilities. Months after our declaration of war they were still struggling with problems which should have been solved before the hour of war arrived, so that our army, though made of as splendid fighting materials as ever went into battle, had to fight with foreign equipment.

Senator Harding says no excuse may ever be made for this neglect of reasonable preparation, and he is right. We take his remark as evidence that so far as he can bring it about our army and navy will not be thus unprepaerd again. If the people are not wise enough to accept the citizen training which be the greatest guaranty of our peace, we can at least go far toward preparation for defense by seeing to it that we have an air service and aeroplanes of the best, artillery and munitions sufficient for modern warfare, and plenty of the military technicians essential to an army and navy.

If we are forced into another war we may not have two great allied armies and navies to hold back the enemy while we get ready, and to give us artillery, aeroplanes and other essentials in default of our own. Because Mr. Wilosn held the pacifist fallacy that to make war, our men fought with French and British guns and our boys flew with French aeroplanes. Mr. Cox, who seems to be taking all his ideas from Mr. Wilson, offers us no hope that the same sanguinary blunder would not be perpetrated again. We believe Mr. Harding has learned the humiliating lesson of 1917.

We hope our next war is far away. We trust we do not now need a great army. Our people seem to be unable to see the great benefit of universal military training. But at least we should have ever ready the equipment and technical framework of a modern defense force fully adequate to our responsibilities.—Chicago Tribune.

COX'S STATEMENT TO LABOR PROVED TO BE GROSSLY INACCURATE

Claim He Had "Never Pressed a Soldier Into an Industrial Controversy" Not True.

USED OHIO MILITIA TWICE

Question Not About Merits of Strike or Need for Military, but as to Truthfulness.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

Columbus, O.—Governor James M. Cox's boosted labor record has been shattered by his own official act. Claiming that he had "never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy," the record of his action as governor of Ohio in mobilizing the National Guard of this state for service in the steel strike of 1919 has been produced in flat contradiction of his assertion.

Not once, but on two occasions was the Ohio guard, at an expense of $23,000 to the people of Ohio, called into service and sent to Akron and held in readiness for action in nearby Canton.

The question is not as to the merits of the strike or as to the necessity for the presence of the guard within striking distance of Canton, but concerns wholly the truthfulness of Governor Cox's statement, obviously made to win favor among the workingmen. The facts as brought out in the speech of Republican State Chairman George H. Clark, formally opening the campaign at Columbus, are as follows:

Ordered Guard Out Twice.

After the steel strike had progressed for some days, with more or less disorder, Governor Cox on September 28, 1919, suddenly ordered the mobilization of the guard at Akron. A period of quiet followed, and the troops were withdrawn. And then again suddenly on October 25 the guard was once more mobilized and sent to Akron, and while it lay there at that strategic point awaiting a summons into action staff officers representing Governor Cox kept close watch on the situation in Canton.

In his speech at Wheeling, W. Va., on the night of August 14 Governor Cox said:

"For six years I have been in executive authority in the great industrial state of Ohio. During all this time I have never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy."

The question is, did Governor Cox tell the truth? Answering this question, Chairman Clark in his Columbus speech displayed to his audience a photographic copy of Special Order No. 52 issued from the Adjutant General's department of the State of Ohio, dated Columbus, October 25, 1919, which designated certain officers for immediate active service and paragraph 4 of which reads:

Facts Presented.

"In anticipation of the development of a rioting condition at Canton, O., the Governor of Ohio has deemed it necessary to assemble a sufficient number of state troops at Akron, O., to be held in readiness to render aid to the civil authorities at Canton, O., and has so directed the Adjutant General of Ohio, who, pursuant to such order, directs Colonel Benson W. Hough to proceed without delay to Akron, O., to take command of all state troops upon arrival at Akron, O., and to hold them in readiness for duty, awaiting further orders."

The order is signed by the Adjutant General and counter-signed in these words, "By command of Governor Cox."

Did Governor Cox tell the truth to the workingmen?

Supplementing this documentary proof, Mr. Clark produced photographic copies of headlines from Canton, O., newspapers of concurrent date, which read: "State troops mobilizing for duty here. All available companies are ordered out." And, "Governor orders troops for duty here, Ohio soldiers reporting to armories following trouble."

Truth Should Be Known.

The surprising thing about it all is that Governor Cox in his Wheeling speech should have made so flat an assertion when all of the facts with regard to his mobilization of the guard were still fresh in the public mind, at least in Ohio. Of course it is not to be expected that workingmen elsewhere in the United States would be familiar with the circumstances, and it was for that reason that State Chairman Clark in his speech stressed the necessity for the people all over the country to be informed that Governor Cox's assertion that he "never pressed a soldier into an industrial controversy," was absolutely at variance with the truth.

Publication of these official facts has utterly confounded the advocates of Governor Cox's election, who have been making a special plea to the workingmen on the basis of his West Virginia speech. The revelations as to Mr. Cox's mobilization of the troops are being compared with the sworn statements of liquor league contributions to his gubernatorial campaign fund in refutation of his statement that "the wets have never contributed one dollar to any of my campaigns." In both cases the point is made that the issue is not as to the merit of his mobilization of the troops, on the one hand, or as to the status of the wet and dry question, on the other hand, but that the real issue is as to the degree of truth and accuracy absolutely necessary in one who seeks to be president of the United States.

COMMANDER EVANGELINE BOOTH OPENS AMERICA'S "UNIVERSITY OF HUMANITY"

The "University of Humanity," just dedicated in New York by Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army. Here the Army's officers will henceforth be trained. (Insert) Commander Miss Booth (Left) and members of her staff.

The doors of the first "University of Humanity" have just been opened.

To the blare of trumpets and the march of men and women wearing insignia of crimson and gold the dream of a patriarch was realized the other day in New York, and 100 students began a course in the art of serving their fellow men.

That course will teach them not only sociology, social service and first aid; not only theology and Bible study, but cooking, scrubbing, sweeping and laundering as well.

This "University of Humanity" is known as the Salvation Army Training College. It was a dream of the founder of the Army, General William Booth. The realization of his dream is a brick and brownstone building upon a height on the outskirts of New York city, a modern building with a lecture room, class rooms, six study rooms, sitting rooms, dormitories and offices.

Commander Evangeline Booth, daughter of the man who dreamed it, dedicated the building. She stood upon the steps, her staff about her, while rank upon rank of bonneted Army lassies and uniformed officers marched past to the music of a Salvation Army band. Later in the lecture room she interpreted the ideals of the new college, while the portrait of her father, the General, looked down upon this new advance of his forces.

Here will be trained the 500 men and women that the Salvation Army needs for officers. They will rise to the bugle call, study in the classrooms and in the homes of the unfortunate; do their own work, that they may be ready to help in whatever way they may be needed. Then they will go out into the slums of American cities and to far countries where other divisions of the Army are working.

To support this work of training will go part of the $10,000,000 Home Service Fund for which the Army will appeal from May 10 to 20.

ROAD BUILDING

PUBLIC ROADS BUREAU WORK

Plans, Specifications and Estimates Are Examined and Approved in Short Period.

Over 50 per cent of all applications for federal aid are handled in the district offices of the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture in an average of five days; 90 per cent of them pass the chief engineer's office in Washington to final approval in four days. The plans, specifications and estimates which the states furnish and which have to be reviewed, sometimes checked, and always reported on in detail with specific recommendations, pass the district engineer's office at about the same rate as the applications and 90 per cent of them pass the district engineer's office in three and a half days. There are at present over 3,000 active federal aid projects in the United States.

The federal aid act is administered with three per cent of the appropriations and this fund is carefully controlled each month on the basis of actual performance under the law. As an illustration of efficient administration, district No. 8, with offices located in Montgomery, Alabama, cost the government $78,547 from December, 1916, to April, 1920, inclusive. This is an average of $1,916 per month. Reports from the district engineer for that district show that the bureau's engineering review and technical advice in connection with state projects submitted have resulted in large savings in road construction. A single case in one state was revised by the district engineer's office at a saving of $13,608.20. Another project was redesigned to cost $10,000 less at the time the plans were reviewed by the bureau.

EMPLOY CONVICTS ON ROADS

Satisfactory Results Reported From Twelve States Where Experiment Has Been Tried.

Twelve states have tried the employment of convict labor for road building thoroughly, and report that the results have been satisfactory. They are Arizona, Oklahoma, Florida, Maryland, Illinois, Louisiana, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho and Nebraska.

Since the United States government has made its great appropriations for good roads, which the states are duplicating as the federal law requires as fast as their legislatures meet, the department of agriculture has been making a complete survey of the methods of road building in the states. Concerning the use of convict labor the conclusion from these reports is that where the convicts are well fed and housed they work well, save the state in construction costs, and themselves profit physically and mentally. —Syracuse Post Standard.

CASH FOR IMPROVING ROADS

Total Amount for 1919 Placed at $138,000,000 in Report by Bureau of Public Roads.

An important report, which possesses peculiar interest for all motorists, regarding good road progress during the present year, made by the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture, shows that for 1919 the expenditure for hard-surfaced highways establishes a new record, in so far as the department's road program is concerned, the total amount being $138,000,000. The indications are that the following year will exceed this record by a large margin, as the available funds for road expenditure by the bureau for 1920 amount to $633,000,000.

Money for Good Roads.

Thirty-seven states in this country have authorized the expenditure of $635,641,729 for good roads in the next five years.

Cash for Lincoln Highway.

An allotment of $12,000,000 has been made for improvements to the Lincoln highway.

Highways Destroyed by War.

More than 25,000 miles of highways were destroyed in France during the world war.

—Mr. James Quirk has been remodeling his store in the Holder block so as to use it for a storeroom for Ford cars. It now has a large door in the front nad presents a very attractive appearance.

103 YEARS YOUNG; HE'S FOR HARDING

"If I should live to be another 100 years old I certainly would never vote for a member of the Democratic party for President or any other national office."

So declares "Grandpa" Albert Vogel, 108 years young, of Jeannette, Pa., who cast his first vote in a presidential election for Polk, voted for Abraham Lincoln and has voted the Republican ticket ever since. Next month he will vote for Harding and Coolidge.

"Tell the country I am for Harding and Coolidge and America first," says Mr. Vogel. "I want no Wilson League of Nations. President Wilson's autocracy and the wastefulness of those he gathered about him as his official family was to be expected. It has been a Democratic trait for years."

"Grandpa" Vogel takes a daily constitutional over streets near his home in Jeannette. Occasionally he preaches a sermon from one of the Western Pennsylvania churches with old time vigor. He started life as an assistant lamplighter in the Capitol grounds at Washington when he was fifteen years old. He often ran errands for members of Congress and can vividly recall the eloquence of Henry Clay and Daniel Webster and other famous statesmen of that period. He saw Andrew Jackson inaugurated in 1832. Later he became a Methodist minister.

EDITORS PAY VISIT TO MARION STAR AND FIND A REAL PAPER.

"If President Harding is as big a success as Editor Harding he will go down in history in the Hall of Fame," writes J. Gabbert of Riverside, Cal., in an article just published on his return from Marion, where he visited Harding's paper.

"We found just the sort of a paper a future President might be expected to edit," says Mr. Gabbert, "and the visit to us came nearer to being an editorials conference than a political crusade.

"We found men working for Editor Harding who had been with him for periods varying from 20 to 38 years. We found that Editor Harding follows closely every detail incident to the publication of his paper. He knows what pay the helpers on the floor get, just as he knows the amount he pays his manager. He can handle type like the rest of us, and it would keep my foreman busy to beat him on setting up a stick of 8-point type. He knows how to make up a paper like a veteran and he is just as much at home in the business office looking over the advertising accounts."

—Karl Kennedy, Carl Bloomquist, Arel and Harold Alexes of Mt. Jewett were Smethport visitors Saurday night.

lost of the way the home men McCarthy, McGowan and Walker helped the good fight along McCarthy was strong on the defence, making several nice stops and pegs and nailing one base-runner on the paths between second and third. Walker did not have much opportunity to shine, but played his usual consistent game. McGowan's blow in the sixth scored two runs and made be said to have won the game.

Rixford also came loaded for bear with outside players. Ertz, at first, was a member of the Bradford Olympics, who recently closed their season. Bean, the pitcher, was the leading moundsman in the Canadian League last year. Bolivar supplied the catch, Cady, who, it was said, was formerly a big-leaguer.

Both pitchers were real masters in the box, and it was a battle royal between them. Bean struck out eight, walked one, and was nicked for six hits. Fileshifter had six strike-outs to his credit, passed one, and was found for four hits. He relied chiefly on curved balls, while his rivals, Bean, used speed and placement.

There was no scoring until the sixth inning when Smethport, after Rixford had been retired with a man on third, ran in two tallies. With two down, Robinson bunted and was safe at first when Bean muffed the ball. Herb Moran tried several times to work the 'hit-and-run' with Robinson, but failed, and was walked, advancing the runner a base. Then "Crow" McGowan landed on a long one that sailed into right field. Rowe, who was suposed to work in that territory, badly misjudged the ball, coming in too far and then having to turn his back and chase it, with the result that the blow counted as a triple and brought in Robinson and Moran.

Smethport's third run came in the eighth through a series of pretty plays by Separs and Herb Moran. Separs doubled into right field. Herb Moran bunted perfectly to the pitcher, and was safe on some beautiful running. Spears, acting on a hit-and-run signal was almost to third when the ball was hit, and starfed home on the play to first. A perfect slide carried him around the catcher and counted the score.

Rixford threatened to score in the sixth and the eighth innings, but did not succeed until the ninth. Ertz hit safely through first, advanced to second on Cady's hit through short, to third on the play of Bean's hit to short which resulted in Cady's being tagged out at second, and scored when Spears on the same play, relayed the ball to first in an attempt at a double play, but threw low.
